

Maths in the Early Years

In Reception children learn to subitise numbers to 5, this is where they instantly recognise different formations of quantities without having to count.

The children are exposed to a variety of number structures and representations including part-whole models and tens frames.

Number composition is an important part of Maths in Reception. Children learn all the different ways to make numbers to 10.

